ATI seeks a Senior Medicaid Integration Analyst to join our company. This individual will support client engagements - from conception to presentation; have experience and comfort in managing to project deadlines; have familiarity with health policy issues in Medicare and Medicaid; and have an interest in growing with the company. The ideal individual has experience working for or directly on behalf of a state Medicaid agency, preferably with a focus on dual eligibles, pre-dual eligibles, and/or long-term services and supports.

Responsibilities

- Manage and lead efforts to promote Medicare-Medicaid integration, with a lens on state impacts, opportunities, and operational concerns.
- Develop summaries, research papers, and PowerPoint presentations to provide strategic recommendations to clients.
- Serve as lead policy and program analyst across range of state Medicaid programs.
- Design research protocols and conduct qualitative and quantitative research on a diverse array of healthcare and social services issues affecting complex populations.
- Analyze relevant legislation, statutes/regulations, and policies, and summarize for internal and external audience.
- Solve problems and use judgement to identify and question key assumptions that drive analysis and recommendations.
- Think creatively about analyses and datasets to deliver value to clients.
- Responsible for quality and accuracy of analysis.
- Manage projects from conception and kickoff through final delivery of project.
- Develop content expertise on a range of healthcare and related social, non-medical issues.
- Present to clients on subject matter.

Requirements

- An undergraduate or graduate degree in public policy, public health, public administration, business, statistics, economics, mathematics, or other related field.
- 4-6 years of relevant work experience; including consulting, research, state Medicaid agency, federal agency, or managed care organization program administration, or operations specific to Medicare and/or Medicaid.
- Demonstrated interest and expertise in at least one area: healthcare policy and regulatory environment; healthcare financing and delivery; Medicare and/or Medicaid; integrated care for dually eligible beneficiaries; value-based care; Medicare Advantage; long-term services and supports; and aging.

- Experience and comfort in independently analyzing data and information across and between the Medicare and Medicaid programs, preparing written summaries and visual displays that clearly convey information.
- Ability to manage and lead tasks and lead small projects, providing critical insights into project design and execution.
- Ability to contribute to business development by supporting firm's thought leadership efforts (e.g., data analysis used in external press) and helping to manage client relationships.
- Ability to problem solve independently and work with incomplete information.
- Comfort presenting analyses to external audiences.

Preferred skills

- Exceptional analytical and problem-solving skills
- Program operational experience within a state Medicaid program or an organization working with/supporting a state Medicaid program
- Ability to communicate complex ideas effectively, both written and verbally
- Strong organizational skills and ability to multitask
- Experience reviewing and summarizing legislation and regulations
- Ability to synthesize extensive research findings into relevant insights
- High degree of professional maturity
- High level of initiative, quick learning ability, and resourcefulness
- Basic understanding of consulting environment
